

Ethics News – July 19, 2017

The Canadian Centre for Ethics & Corporate Policy (“Ethics Centre”) is pleased to provide you by email, on a regular basis, with timely articles from a variety of sources, on ethical issues currently affecting organizations.

In this month’s first article, Reuters reports the VW emissions fraud scandal continues, with fresh accusations involving VW’s subsidiary, Porsche:

Access their article at German Prosecutor Investigating Employees at VW's Porsche

In our second article, the Volkov Law Group LLC provides useful insight into how the US Department of Justice makes decisions about laying charges in cases of wrongdoing:

Their article can be accessed at DOJ's "Filip" Factors and Corporate Prosecutions

Our third article is an interesting story from the CBC, which implies the need to rethink the social impact of business:

Their article can be accessed at Amazon Prime Does More for Northern Food Security Than Federal Subsidies, say Iqaluit Residents

In our fourth article, Ethics Centre Board member Chris MacDonald contemplates the relationship between doing well in business and doing good.

His article can be accessed at Doing Well for the Greater Good

ETHICS CENTRE is a uniquely Canadian, independent body, dedicated to promoting and maintaining an ethical orientation and culture in Canadian organizations. We champion the application of ethical values in the decision-making processes of business and other organizations.
